

An exciting evening of Khyal
by Hindustani vocalist

Nachiketa Sharma

with Ravi Gutala, tabla and Vivek Datar, harmonium

Saturday, August 23

7:30 pm

John Hope Franklin Center

Room 240

2204 Erwin Road

Duke University

Parking available in Pickens Lot off Trent Drive

Hailing from Dharwad, Karnataka, Nachiketa Sharma was initiated into Hindustani classical vocal music by his parents at the age of 12, and began his formal study in Madras. His rigorous and extended musical education was with the virtuoso, the late Padmabhushan Pandit Basavraj Rajguru. Nachiketa Sharma has performed extensively in cities across India and the United States. After he moved to California, he founded the Rajguru Sangeet Vidya Niketan in Cupertino, a school of music named after and dedicated to his guru.

Supported by the Office of the Vice Provost for the Arts, Duke University, Department of Religion, Duke University, NC Center for South Asia Studies.

